Lebanon WAC Tops Class in Cartographic Drafting

Warren County Girl Wins First Honor at Engineer School

Special to the Post:

Ft. Belvoir, Va., May 2.-

Pfc. Dolores L. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Goddard of 203 Warren Street, Lebanon, Ohio, is the first WAC to graduate in first place in the Cartographic Drafting class at the Engineer School Fort Belvoir, Va.

She finished the 11-week course here last week with a score of 90. She has returned to Ft. Mead, Md., where she is assigned to draftsman's duties.

Before entering the Army 26 months ago, Pfc. Williams worked for a photographic studio and was active in Girl Scout work. She graduated from Lebanon High School in 1949.

The Cartographic Drafting class trains students to draw topographic features used in the reproduction of maps.

The Engineer School teaches both men and women from all branches of the U.S. Armed Forces and military representatives of 18 foreign nations.

Former Resident Gets Peabody Prize for Highest Scholastic Attainment

Fort Meade, Md.- After putting in a full day's work as an illustrator at Fort George G. Mead, Md., Miss Dolores L. Williams has been attending night classes at the Maryland Institute of Art. On June 5, Miss Williams' efforts were rewarded. When she received her diploma, she was also presented the Peabody Prize a check for $50.00 for achieving the highest scholastic average in the graduating class. What made her achievement more remarkable was the fact that she completed the regular four-year course in two-and-a-half years.

Miss Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Goddard, 247 North Broadway, Lebanon. She has been a Civil Service employee in the Plans and Operations Section at Headquarters, Fort Meade since 1953.

Dolores first came to Fort Meade when she was serving in the Women's Army Corps, which she had joined in February 1950. During most of her Army career, Dolores was a draftsman in the section where she is now employed. While in the WAC, Miss Williams also displayed outstanding ability in art. She was the first woman ever to receive top honors at the Cartographic Drafting School at Fort Belvoir, Va.

Miss Williams school days are by no means over. She is now planning to take a post graduate course at the Institute next fall.

Introduction

The purpose of this study is to investigate the effects of various factors on the growth of a specific plant species. The study is divided into two main parts: a theoretical analysis and an experimental investigation.

The theoretical part of the study focuses on the relationship between the growth rate of the plant and the concentration of a specific nutrient. It is hypothesized that the growth rate will increase with the concentration of the nutrient, up to a certain point, after which it will level off.

The experimental part of the study involves the measurement of the growth rate of the plant under different concentrations of the nutrient. The growth rate is measured by the increase in the height of the plant over a period of time. The results of the experiment are presented in a table below.

Nutrient Concentration (mg/L)	Growth Rate (cm/day)
0	0.5
10	1.2
20	1.8
30	2.1
40	2.3
50	2.4

The results of the experiment show that the growth rate of the plant increases with the concentration of the nutrient, up to a concentration of 40 mg/L. After this point, the growth rate levels off, indicating that the plant has reached its maximum growth rate for this nutrient concentration.

The theoretical analysis and the experimental results are in good agreement, supporting the hypothesis that the growth rate of the plant increases with the concentration of the nutrient, up to a certain point, after which it will level off.

The study has several limitations, including the use of a single plant species and the measurement of growth rate by height. Future studies should investigate the effects of other factors on the growth of the plant and use more sophisticated methods to measure growth rate.

Frederick J. Quiller

Frederick J., only son of Frederick and Sarah M. Quiller, was born in Lebanon, Ohio, January 18, 1887. He passed away at the Middletown Hospital at an early hour, November 3, 1927, having reached an age of 40 years, 10 months and 16 days.

With the exception of a few years, his life has been spent in this vicinity.

He was united in marriage to Bertha Maurer on June 22, 1907. One daughter, Thelma, came to bless and brighten their home.

Fred, as he was known to everyone, was a friend to all he chanced to meet, greeting others always with a kind word and smile. He was a loving and devoted son, husband and father. He will be sadly missed by his associates. He leaves to mourn his loss, a loving wife and daughter, his mother, two sisters, Mrs. Raymond Eyer and Mrs. Fannie Wolcott, besides neices and nephews, and a host of friends.

Fred's illness dates from the flood in 1913 when in order to save the lives of others he exposed himself to the elements until his weakened and chilled condition made it necessary for his friends to assist him to his home. Bravely facing the dangers, never thinking of himself in his interest for others in need, he was responsible for saving many lives during that dreadful disaster. His attitude may well be summed up in the poet's lines:

"No danger thwarted
his courage strong,
He did his duty
with smile and song.
Not counting the cost,
he labored on
True and faithful till day was done."
